WEE CARE PROGRAM

If you have special talents like smocking, crocheting, etc. you may be interested in being part of the Wee Care Program. This is a group of women who make little layettes for stillborn and premature babies. When there is a need, the hospital calls and the layettes are provided. There are patterns and directions so you can work at home. They also meet together once a month in the Wesleyan classroom to show what you have made, to get instructions and to leave finished items. Kat Buescher is the program leader. She can be contacted at 229-249-0905.
